Talk with Irene about her life with Alex the African grey, who died last year, and where she goes from here. Celebrated for her work in science regarding the intelligence of parrots, Dr. Pepperberg continues her very important work with other parrots in her lab at Brandeis University. She might even show us first-hand how she trains birds in the lab by working with Pepper, Leigh Ann Hartsfield's very talented African grey.

We will be also have an auction to support Dr. Pepperberg's ongoing research. If you have items to donate, please e-mail us at phoenixlanding@earthlink.net. For more information about Phoenix Landing events, go to:
